

Product Picks

By Megan Bender

CANINE CALM ($12) EarthHeartInc.com

Not everyone is comfortable traveling, and that includes your dog. The stress of going to and fro can wreak havoc on your pooch. To make traveling a little smoother, try spraying Canine Calm by Earth Heart Inc. in your pet's carrier. This aromatherapy is safe to spray directly on your dog, your pet's bedding, or in the car. You'll be amazed to see how quickly Canine Calm will settle Fifi's nerves.

PET FIRST AID KIT ($25) PetTravelCenter.com

All vacationers plan for fun and adventure, but it's important not to overlook safety, for yourself and your pet. With the American Kennel Club's 51-piece Pet First-Aid Kit, you'll be able to give your beloved four-legged family members the medical attention they need in case of emergency. The compact kit can conveniently be stored in a car, book bag, or suitcase.

SPILL-PROOF PET TRAVEL BOWL ($30) FlyDogPets.com

Road trips can be a lot more comfortable for Patches with the Spill-Proof Pet Travel Bowl. With this easy, fully adjustable, over-the-chair apparatus, your dog can sip water as desired and you don't have to worry about the spillage on your car's upholstery. Not traveling in the car at the moment? The contraption fits perfectly inside your dog's kennel or conveniently hangs on a fence to give your pooch a little hydration during outdoor playtime.

PETPAC ($35) FreshVac.com

If you're hitting the road with your four-legged best friends, make sure you have all of their needs tended to, including their next meal. With the Petpac from Freshvac, you'll have your pet's essential supplies available when they need them. Each Petpac includes an easy-to-carry bag with space to store toys, leashes, clean-up baggies, or medicine, as well as two containers for food and treats and two food and water dishes.

SKYBOX BOOSTER SEAT ($63) Kurgo.com

Do you think it's cute when your pooch sits on your lap while you drive? You may soon change your mind when you're ticketed for it. With Skybox Booster Seat, Sadie can still sit shotgun, but you can drive safely and legally. This secure padded seat installs quickly and allows your dog to have an unobstructed view out of the window. This seat is a must for any road trip!

SLEEPYPOD AIR ($150) Sleepypod.com

As you enjoy the luxury of a first-class flight, your pet's on-flight abode may be a little less accommodating. With the Sleepypod Air, designed for both cats and small dogs, your pet can also experience the comfort of luxury travel. The carrying case can adjust to meet most major airline carry-on pet regulations by compressing in length from 22" to 16." There are even side pockets to store your pet's essential in-flight items.

